YEAR BOOK 2018-19

ILS Law College, Pune

PRINCIPAL PAGE

Dear Students,

I am privileged to place in your hand the annual volume of Abhivyakti Year Book for the academic year 2018-19. The Year Book has documented contribution of students and teachers to the curricular, co-curricular, and extra-curricular activities of the college very well.

I am very glad to share with you the ranking of ILS by various magazines in the special efforts taken by them to identify educational institutions of high eminence. We stand in the 'Top 10' list of such institutions.

Now we are awaiting a very precious Assessment and Accreditation by National Assessment and Accreditation Council, an autonomous body of the University Grants Commission. The peer team visit is due on 21st and 22nd July 2019. Your positive participation will go a long way in this assessment and accreditation process. It will open a new world of opportunities for ILS to excel in legal education.

At this exciting juncture we pay respectful homage to the departed souls – Late Shri. H. P. Deshmukh, Late Dr. Anupa Thapliyal – our former teachers and mentors for many students, and late Prof. Madhav Menon who shaped legal education in India.

I thank all of you, teaching and non-teaching staff, for their co-operation through the year.

I congratulate the Editorial Board for their efforts in preparing the Year Book.

I wish you all Best of Luck.

Thank you

Vaijayanti Joshi

Principal

Editorial

“Being a lawyer is not merely a vocation. It is a public trust, and each of us has an obligation to give back to our communities.” -Janet Reno

This academic year was a testament to the duties and responsibilities realized by us as an institution, developing advocates and visionaries solicitous towards the needs of the society. The students have persistently excelled in the Savitribai Phule Pune University Merit List and displayed exceptional talent in the co-curricular and extra-curricular activities ensuring all round development. ABHIVYAKTI documents the journey of these meritorious students.

In addition to the accolades earned by the students, the Year Book documents the achievements of the faculty members. The management and staff have been constantly supportive of the activities undertaken by the students, aiding them to achieve excellence and professionalism that is the hallmark of ILS Law College. The college has undertaken significant efforts to realize its vision and mission, bringing to light the capabilities and talents of its students.

We take pride in listing the achievements of our Legal Aid Centre, one of which has been the commendable performance of the students as an integral part of the “Narmada Bachao Aandolan”, the appalling environment issue in the country. The Legal Aid Centre also bagged the Legal Aid Award by Knowledge Steez for excellent services in Social Service and Legal Aid. Taking Legal Aid from ILS to the International platform, six of our students interned with AIESEC AAST in Cairo, Egypt and their partner Tadamon and showcased their exemplary talent in the same. They participated in United Nations Goal No. 5: Sustainable Development and Women Empowerment for Refugees in Egypt.

This year, the prestigious 13th S. P. Sathe National Conference evinced not only the students but also the professionals as it manifested the sessions on “Taxation Laws”, one of the most wearisome subjects in law. Legal stalwarts such as Mr. Mukesh Butani, Mr. Arvind Datar, Justice Anita Sumanth, Mr. N. Venkatraman and many more enlightened us with their knowledge on different topics taken up in different sessions. The sessions demystified the doubts and complexities of the subjects such as Economic Consideration of Taxation Policy, Benami Transactions in relation to Taxation Laws and many others.

This academic year witnessed a milestone in the history of our College's Sports as the students took an initiative to start “KREEDANGAN,” the National Inter-College Sports event, which was a success on a grand scale.

The reports of various Cells and Centres are a testimony of the multitudinous activities carried out on Campus. It is a record that speaks for the dedication and combined efforts of the students, teachers, and the administrative staff alike.

The Editorial Board takes pride in congratulating all the stake holders of this remarkable academic year.

The editorial board would like to heartily thank Principal Vijayanti Joshi for her constant support, guidance, and cooperation in the making of the Year Book. We thank Mr. Date for being a trusted and reliable associate for years to capture the moments wonderfully with the lens. We also thank Shree J printers for the laborious task of designing and printing.

Harking back at the past year, we present you the Year Book 2018-19- ABHIVYAKTI.

MENTOR MENTEE SYSTEM

Mentor Mentee system was introduced in the college in Academic Year 2017-18 to help students with Academic and Stress related issues. Initially it was implemented for First Years of LL. B. and B.A.LL.B. Although teachers have always been interacting with the students at various levels and have been their guides and mentors, there never was a formal structure to it. It was felt that a formal arrangement can make such a support system more robust and may help students in need in a better way. A formal assignment of a faculty member as a Mentor to a group of students is more concrete a system than an informal relationship developed by a teacher with students over time. In the academic year 2018-19 Mentor Mentee System was implemented for all the years of B.A.LL.B., LL.B., and LL.M. programs.

Keeping this in mind, a faculty member each was assigned to each division. In almost all of such assignments it was seen that the assigned teacher has been teaching the respective class for at least one semester. This ensured the Mentor and the Mentees weren't totally unfamiliar to each other and find it easy to develop a rapport.

Mentors were given the following outline of the responsibilities:

1. To conduct regular interaction with Mentees to identify and address the academic and stress related issues

2. To guide the Mentees to appropriate authority or professional to address any grave issues
3. To keep a track of the attendance record of Mentees and counsel the defaulters

It was also decided that at least one common meeting of the assigned class must be conducted each semester by the Mentor. Although students would be free to discuss with Mentors any issues they face, it was agreed that the issues regarding any other Faculty member or non-teaching staff should not be entertained by the mentor, and the students would be directed to the Principal in such a case.

Implementation:

Mentors took one Common meeting each semester as decided and engaged in one on one mentoring throughout the year. Introduction of the Mentor-Mentee system, performance in the examination, problems regarding topics of the syllabus, issues regarding attendance, etc. were some of the topics of discussion in the common meetings. Even some grievances ranging from campus facilities to examinations and results were raised in the meeting. In such cases the students were guided to appropriate grievance redressal mechanisms available. One on one mentoring resulted in the discussion of a range of issues, from stress due to personal reasons to possible career paths after graduation. In the cases where a need was felt that the Mentee should receive professional help they were directed to the appropriate mental health professional. Strict professional confidentiality was maintained regarding one to one interactions. Mentor Mentee system thus has proven to be an effective and formalized system helping students with various issues as well as a first step in grievance redressal mechanism.

The exercise of mooting is one of the highlights of every law curriculum. It teaches students skills quintessential for solving legal problems. These skills encompass both soft skills as well as writing skills. It is one of the appurtenant collateral of any law school's curriculum and one which is most relished by most students.

The ILS Moot Court Society ("MCS") was founded in the academic year 2014-15 to burgeon the interests of students in the activity of mooting, facilitate students to understand intricacies of legal research, acquire sufficient stronghold over the utilization of online legal databases, organize research to crisp and clear legal propositions on the issues presented in a moot proposition which finally culminates in to a clinching argument in a moot court competition. This is achieved with our student members hosting weekly sessions throughout the academic year on various aspects of mooting which range from introduction to mooting, use of research operators, tenets of legal reading and research, interpretation of statutes, moot demonstrations, drafting moot problems, drafting memorandums, formatting memorandums and mechanics of oral advocacy.

In addition, MCS organizes the Novice Moot Court Competition and Public International Law Moot Court Competition to assist students in their first and sophomore year of law school to acquaint them with the exercise of mooting. Every year, MCS also hosts Raghavendra Phadnis Moot Court Competition, which serves as a selection round for students inclined to represent ILS Law College at national and state level moot court competitions while Intra College Public International Law Moots Selection Rounds serve as a selection round for students inclined to represent ILS Law College at international moot court competitions or in moot court competitions where the subject matter is public international law. Both these competitions are highly awaited events of the year and witness massive participation from students across all batches.

Furthermore, MCS deals with all specific and ancillary aspects of organization of moot court competitions, circulation of invitations of national and international moot court competitions, client counseling competitions, mediation and negotiation competitions, trial advocacy competitions, allotment of the teams and assistance to students in completing respective registration processes of competitions. MCS runs a mentorship programme, wherein our senior students (from III LL.B., IV B.A. LL.B. and V B.A. LL.B.) act as mentors to our teams representing ILS Law College at various moot court competitions. MCS arranges practice oral rounds and feedback sessions with faculty members and senior students for the teams to get some good touch before they leave for their competitions. MCS also has a memo formatting team, which plays a significant role in making written submissions of our teams adhere to technical and computational specifications.

The ILS Moot Court Society consists of student members from every batch who are selected every year based on defined criteria by inviting applications and conduct of interviews. Once the core committee is formulated, the tasks at hand are democratically distributed within the members of the committee.

Taxation is perceived as a vast and highly complex subject and majority of students studying law dread studying Taxation laws. Further, reluctance in taking up taxation as their areas of practice is pertinent. Consequentially, the practice of taxation is restricted to a small number of advocates even though taxations laws are one of the most extensively applicable laws in India. In order for the country to witness good taxation legal practitioners in future, it is imperative that the students are allowed a platform to understand and learn these vast and complex laws.

This Moot Court Competition aimed at allowing the students with an opportunity to study the niceties of the subject and acquaint themselves with the ambiguities in policies and rules pertaining to taxation through an intersection of constitutional law provisions. It also aimed at encouraging academic creativity for challenging the existing gaps in the laws and rules with regard to the taxation policies and their implementation. This helped the students to appreciate the niceties of the subject and in our most humble belief, it would also kindle interest in the minds of students to take up further study or research or practice in taxation laws.

3. 6th ILS National Alternate Judgment Writing Competition

Organised by Centre for Public Law at ILS Law College, Pune in collaboration with Jus Dicere

The ILS National Alternate Judgment Writing Competition is an event conducted annually by the Centre for Public Law at ILS Law College, Pune. The competition is organised to enable participants to rethink and analyse judgments of the Supreme Court or the High Courts and to afford opportunities to the students to reimagine the reasoning of the case and to sharpen their research and writing skills.

The competition is open to all students, of 5 year or 3 year law course from any institution or university. It comprised of two rounds. The first and the selection round involved the submission and evaluation of the alternate judgment in its written form while the second round was an evaluation of the oral presentation of the judgments by the five qualifying participants.

The case for this year's competition was the National Federation of the Blind, Maharashtra v. High Court of Judicature of Bombay [2018 SCC Online Bom 931]. The judgment authored by Justice Naresh H. Patil was pronounced by a coram composed of Justice Patil and Justice G.S. Kulkarni on May 3rd, 2018. It arose out of two writ petitions, one being a public interest litigation, filed before the two benches of the Bombay High Court and subsequently transferred to the principal bench.

The petitions related to an advertisement issued by the administrative side of the Bombay High Court for recruitment to various posts and involved the question relating to the scope of applicability of the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016 to the administrative side of a High Court. The principal issue before the court was whether the Respondent was bound by Section 33 and Section 34 read with Section 2(k) of the Act of 2016 while recruiting new personnel to various vacant posts in the District Court. The court answered the question in the affirmative and partly allowed the petitions by directing the Respondent not to fill 4% of the total posts and to comply with the provisions of the Act of 2016.

The competition was declared open for registrations on 21st December 2018. The provisional registrations were closed on 10th January with 44 registrations. It was with the submission of the alternate judgment along with the other documents specified in the rulebook that the registration would be finalized. The date for making such final submission was January 25th 2019 and was subsequently extended to February 2nd 2019. The total submissions made were 14. The first round was evaluated by Prof. Swatee Yogesh, Associate professor, ILS Law College, Pune and the names of the shortlisted participants were declared on February 13th, 2019. Prof. D.P. Kendre introduced ILS Legal Aid Centre and also the working of the system regarding the same. The students tried to explain the importance and negative impacts of these things in real life by way of skits and speeches. With the help of these plays the students were not only able to communicate different problems in the society but also provided for various solutions to deal with such problems. Laws related to Prohibition of Black Magic, Laws related to Domestic Violence, Laws related to Dowry Prohibition were taken by students.

Many pilgrims came with their legal problems that they were facing in their life and Mr. D. P. Kendre and Dr. Kamalakar Waghmare gave advice to them for their problems along with students who also interacted with pilgrims on various legal issues.

Internships and Field work

1. Internship with Narmada Bachao Andolan,

Duration: 16th to 23rd May 2018

Venue: Narmada Ashish, Naval pura, Barwani, Madhya Pradesh.

“Maa Rewa tharo paani nirmal, Khal Khal Behtojaaye re.” The prayer reverberated in the Narmada valley, resonating a simple and noble wish planted in each inhabitant’s mind, literally translated into saying, “Mother Narmada, I pray that your pure water keeps flowing perennially.”; never on seeing flinching and thinking that this same water is soon going to encompass within itself their houses, livelihood, lands and their very own identities. The dilemma of this irony perplexed us until a realization dawned that their struggle is not against the river but against the forces hell bent on destroying the river by damming it with about 3000 small, 135 medium sized and 30 big dams collectively known as, “Narmada Valley Development Project”- a systematic plan for death of one of India’s largest and most celebrated rivers.

Part of this project is the Sardar Sarovar Dam, a brainchild of Jawaharlal Nehru which was laid down in 1961 and is the world’s second largest dam, with a 214 Km reservoir. The dam pushed 40,000 hectares of human settlement in submergence, including 13,835 hectares of forest land. A total of 192 villages, 1 township consisting of 53,000 families across Maharashtra, Gujarat and Madhya Pradesh are to be duped in the process. Various issues relating to this project were largely debated by the state parties and finally the Narmada Water Dispute Tribunal (NWDT) was set up in order to adjudicate the various issues of funding, beneficiaries and rehabilitation. The award was passed in 1979, giving clear guidelines for the entire project including Rehabilitation & Resettlement (R&R). Although in due course of implementation, this award was grossly violated and disregarded; its guidelines are still applicable on State Governments.

A 450 million dollar loan was sanctioned for the project by the World Bank in 1979 and construction commenced in 1987. Despite huge sanctions, the project lacked planning and implementation with respect to R&R to a great extent. As the project work began its shortcomings started surfacing. The inhabitants were adversely affected by the same to an extent that a struggle sprouted out in the valley. This struggle gained face and spirit in the form of Medhatai Patkar. “Sangharsh hi Jeevan hain” became the motto of the people. Further momentum was gained when Shri. Baba Amte graced the valley with his presence and contribution. Consequently, the World Bank was forced to review and ultimately withdraw its sanctions for the project. An expert team sent by World Bank reached the conclusion that the project severely lacked planning and should be discontinued.

Ignoring all the relevant facts and data, the government took the naïve decision of continuing the project using its own funds. But, people valiantly stood their ground and pledged, “Ladhenge! Jeetenge!”

Presently (as of May 2018), this movement has gained multiple victories in the form of 3 Supreme Court judgements to support them. When a group of 10 law students from ILS Law College volunteered for the movement, they sought to study the socio-legal aspects of the current situation. The huge discrepancies in the implementation of the judgement and award of 1979 come across as a major blot on the efficiency of the judicial process of India. ILS team was mainly responsible for determining violations of NWDT Award (1979) and Supreme Court judgements of 2000, 2005 and 2017. Simultaneously, Students were involved in fact finding and surveying the villages in Barwani and Dhar district in order to note disregard and violations of the November 2017 order of Grievance Redressal Authority (GRA) in order to file a petition in the High Court of Madhya Pradesh regarding the same. Further, there were a few announcements by Chief Minister of Madhya Pradesh, Mr. Shivraj Singh regarding complete disposal and settlement of oustees under a 900 crore package declared by the state. The team was responsible for following up with the details of the beneficiaries of this package and identify the people excluded in the scheme (majorly consisting of fishermen, landless labourers, etc.). The State government also declared a “Zero balance” i.e. a claim that all dues have been settled, whereas in reality there are about 17,000 applications pending before GRA regarding the dues. The team’s survey involved locating people with such petitions and following-up on whether the orders have been complied with.

In the due course of surveying the valley for discrepancies in the implementation, the following were observations of our students:

Day 1: First site visit was in the village of Morkatta, which was mostly inhabited by tribals. In brief conversation students observed certain pertinent points like the fact that their language was a barrier for communication and as they were not well equipped in even basic Hindi-speaking their wants and demands were easily ignored by the authorities of NVDA. Their cultivating lands were forcefully encroached upon for the purpose of resettlement of other oustees, without providing any compensation to them for the same. Another key issue was the involvement of middlemen who fled usurping the tribal’s compensation.

The second site was the village resettlement site of Jangarva. The entire site was allotted on hilly area with steep slopes thereby making it difficult to build houses on the land. Further, no proper canal, drainage or sewage system was provided. The water providing facility lay destroyed by the vandals.

The third site was Havalda village the condition of which was similar to Jangarva. We observed the temporary housing set-up there. Tiny rooms barely measuring 10 X 10 ft were constructed for each family (regardless of the number of members in the family). Additionally, a total of 4 toilets and one hand pump for water supply was set up for over 300 families. There was no school facility set up for the children of these families. “If we live here, our condition would be nothing short of life in prison”, stated an aggrieved villager. It was a gross violation and disregard of the basic human rights of these villagers.

Day 2: Students were given an orientation on the legal issues that were dealt with by Narmada Bachao Andolan by Medhatai Patkar. Subsequently, Students divided themselves in teams of three and carried out research on all the judgments, awards and petitions with respect to the Sardar Sarovar project. Students also paid a visit to the historically important sites in Narmada Valley, including Chikhalda, where the 2003 Jal Satyagraha took place; Raj Ghat, which used to have a memorial of Mahatma Gandhi with his last mortal remains in form of ashes and most importantly the holy Narmada Ghat. After understanding the nitty-gritties of the legal issues and the present facts of the situation Students set forth on the humongous task of data collection, segregation and analysis of the current situation.

Day 3 to Day 6: A survey form was prepared in order to make the data collection efficient. In the course of next four days students visited about 8-10 villages in the Dhar and Barwani district namely, Kalmad, Kukshi, Nisarapur, Eklvara, Chikaldhara and Chota Barda.

There, Students conducted a detailed survey on the Project Affected Families (PAF) regarding-

1. The compensation packages (promised and received),
2. GRA application made by PAF,
3. Orders of GRA received and their compliance status,
4. Status of the land promised to them under R&R policy (Plot measuring 60 * 90 ft),
5. Status of compensation for houses under Pradhan Mantri AvasYojna (5.6 Lakh Package),
6. The share received by elder sons as promised in the 2005 judgment,
7. The compensation for landless labourers, fishermen and other non-farming communities,
8. The status of PAFs whose names have been excluded from the ATR lists,
9. The status of PAFs who have received discriminatory treatment due to their affiliation with NBA,
10. Special cases.

Day 7: Students accumulated data of around 500 PAFs and further segregated the same for the purpose of filing a PIL in the Madhya Pradesh HC regarding the discrepancies and violation of GRA orders. Conclusively, along with non-implementation of the R&R scheme and ineffective compensatory packages, we came across some key issues which weren't discovered earlier. These issues are listed out as follows:

1. A large number of people were excluded from the ATR lists (Action Taken Report), thereby excluding them from being considered for compensation altogether.
2. The surveys conducted by the NVDA have been inconsistent with the present day situation, for example some compensations are still based on 2002 survey.
3. The "Khaliyan" i.e. land for storing agricultural produce has not been considered in any survey even though such land is of utmost importance for agricultural purposes.
4. Separate compensation package and land has been promised to major sons but this scheme has been applied discriminatingly and without any uniformity, thus creating confusion in the minds of the villagers about the same.
5. The most astounding statement was the authorities claiming that the PAF would be entitled to either the farm land or house, which is a gross violation of the Supreme Court judgments.

6. Further, houses and lands of 13 PAFs were declared out of submergence zone in 2017. However, this would be impossible since no change was made to the height of dams or construction area.
7. The houses and lands that would be temporarily affected in monsoons due to the submergence of nearby area and loss of connectivity to the main land are aspects which are completely ignored by the authorities. After eight days of research, survey, and analysis conducted in the villages, students were perplexed by the web of legal issues conceited around one river and its consequences on the valley. Students were astounded by the persistence of the inhabitants and Medha Tai in pursuing this cause of saving the river and wiping the tears of Narmada.

Students participants of this project: Swapnil Falke, Apurva Shelke, Harshita Shahapurkar, Namrata Salve, Rutwick Ratnaparkhi, Aditya Gujrathi (All VB.A.,LL.B.), Satyajit Landage, Sagar Varma, Swapnil Suryawanshi and Amar Raut (All IV B.A.,LL.B.)

2. Internship with AIESEC, AAST in Cairo, Egypt under United Nations Goal No. 5

Duration : 4th November to 7th December 2018

Venue: Tadamon, 10 Elwy Street, Crosskasr El-Nile St. with Sheriff, Behind

Central Bank, Downtown, Cairo.

Students of ILS Legal Aid Centre, Pune were given the opportunity to work towards women empowerment and gender equality under goal No.5 of the United Nations sustainable development goals, through an international student organization AIESEC. In the first week of the internship, students worked with an NGO called 'Women Hand' which helps the poor women in Egypt to earn a livelihood through various activities such as health and mental care, vocational training, terrace farming etc. Students helped the women with terrace farming for a week and planted organic vegetables for their self sustenance.

The remaining duration of the internship, students were working with an NGO called Tadamon which is an Egyptian Multi-cultural Council for refugees. Tadamon is the part of the Inter-Agency Working Group (IAWG) of refugee response in Egypt which is chaired by UNHRC, the main inter-agency co-ordination mechanism worldwide. Tadamon is an independent non-political civil society network working to promote the welfare of marginalized refugees and asylum seekers and their mutual co-existence with Egyptians through networking and co-ordination of co-operative efforts.

While working in Tadamon, students got the opportunity to work with Mrs. Fatima Idriss. Fatima Idriss is the general manager of Tadamon Council since 2009 and is one of its founders. She has participated in many international conferences and has been working in the field of human rights since 2001 with different international organizations based in Egypt. She not only assigned students the work that they had to do in the project but also helped them in framing their mindset according to the situation and laws of Egypt with regards to refugees.

The work with Tadamon was multi-faceted. Students helped women on the ground level by taking English classes thrice a week and participating in the coffee mornings. The most wonderful thing students witnessed was that all the refugee women during the coffee mornings would collect 10 Egyptian pounds each and give it to the one woman who needed it the most. Students helped at the managerial level by going to the local partners of Tadamon like hospitals and mosques and asking them to provide free or subsidised healthcare and education for the refugees. They actively participated in the campaign for spreading awareness about the situation of refugees with Tadamon by making a calendar named '365 Questions on Refugees' and a booklet, both containing the laws pertaining to refugees in Egypt, their implementation and impact. Students also prepared an activity log for the refugee women to provide them with year round mental health services, vocational training, seminars for awareness and education, community strengthening, physical activities like yoga, self sustenance, legal knowledge, communicative abilities, self-reflection, personality building, financial resourcing, family planning and independence.

ILS Students proposed a 'local volunteer programme' to be started in Cairo university and American university in Cairo in partnership with Tadamon to have local volunteers interested in helping refugees on a more continuous basis. They realised that it would be more fruitful to have a continuous volunteer flow and will not face communication barriers like they did making the work faster and more efficient. While looking towards current situation in Egypt, Egypt has signed international conventions protecting the rights of refugees; it has reserved some of the most important rights for their sustenance in the country. For instance refugees in Egypt have the status of tourists and therefore cannot own lands or houses. Egypt has reserved the right to education for the refugees in the refugee convention 1951, and therefore any school in Egypt can decline education to a refugee child. It is also domestic law in Egypt to look at all options and to make sure that no Egyptian is willing, qualified or available to take a job before offering it to a refugee. Due to these laws, hindering the refugees from exercising their basic rights relating to shelter, education and earning a livelihood, they are unable to sustain in Egypt. Tadamon helps refugees with whatever it can in its capacity in partnership with the UNHRC, AIWG and other local partners.

Students not only learnt the crucial legal aspects of the refugee status in Egypt through this project while experiencing the harsh reality they are facing but also learnt important life lessons in the process that would shape us to become better, more empathetic lawyers and people.

Student participants of this project: Swapnil Falke, Poorva Sharma, Sneha Sharma, Shreya Poornima (all V B.A.,LL.B.), Shekhar More and Vaibhav More (both IV BALLB).

One of the objects of the Centre is to make students learn how the law operates and the limitations of law and legal system. This is done by undertaking research with the help of the students. Some ongoing research projects conducted by students are –

1. Access to Legal AidStudent Coordinator- Suganshi Ropia

The researchers aim to study and understand the hindrances that keep people from accessing justice and legal aid and to see to what extent the purpose of Article 39-A of the Constitution of India has been fulfilled. The researchers will assess the situation on the ground level by analysing cases coming to the Legal Aid Clinic at the ILS Legal Aid Centre in addition to studying the existing research on the same. This project primarily aims at questioning status quo in the current climate surrounding legal aid and exploring new tools in improving access to justice for all.

2. Right to Education for Waste Pickers ChildrenStudent Coordinator- Shloka Kumar

In August – September 2018, a team of 10 students carried out a project in association with KKPKP (Kagad Kach Patra Kashtakari Panchayat – a Trade Union for Waste Pickers), with respect to the Right to Education Act, 2009. Many waste-pickers' children have been enrolled in private schools through a provision in the Act which mandates free and compulsory education to all children from 6-14 years of age. 25% of seats in all schools, except unaided minority institutions, are to be reserved for children from economically weaker sections of the society, and all aspects relating to education are supposed to be free.

The project involved data collection from families as to the actual implementation of the Act. The team went to slums in Aundh, Gokhalenagar, Hadapsar, Yeshwantnagar, Laxminagar, Shivajinagar, Kondhwa, Fulenagar, and Pimpri Chinchwad. Data regarding personal information of the children and their parents, and information regarding the schools and the amount charged for items like books, uniforms, stationary, transport, extra-curriculars, annual/sports days, picnics etc was collected, along with photographs of the bills. It was a great experience doing field work at the grassroots, saddening and heartening at the same time. The data is to be used as evidence for a pending PIL that has been filed in the High Court of Maharashtra.

3. Need for Environmental Impact Assessment for Development of Wetlands

Student Coordinator- Sneha Sharma

The students of the ILS legal aid Centre are working on a research project on the effects of apparent beautification and restoration of Pashan Lake, home to many migratory birds and rare freshwater aquatic plants by the PMC. Focus will be on how the PMC was irresponsible with the development project and instead of developing the wetland as a wetland; they destroyed its ecosystem with the beautification. Extensive research will be done and statistics will be collected for finding out the impact and consequences of these steps on the aquatic life and migratory birds in the wetland. Legal duty of the PMC with regards to conducting a proper environmental impact assessment before taking up such projects will be scrutinized. Finally, an RTI will be filed with the PMC or other designated government offices to take measures to correct the ecosystem and stop the beautification in any other lake by PMC without proper Environmental Impact Assessment.

The current trend regarding resolution of disputes is that the parties are adopting various methods like Arbitration, Mediation and Conciliation to resolve disputes. These ADR methods, are used as an alternative to the process of litigation. The ADR Methods are non-adversarial. ADR methods facilitate parties to deal with the disputes in a more cost-effective manner and with increased efficacy. In addition, these processes have the advantage of providing parties with the opportunity to reduce hostility, regain a sense of control, gain acceptance of the outcome, resolve conflict in a peaceful manner, and achieve a greater sense of justice in each individual case. Director: Ms. Sathya Narayan

A. Aims & Object of the Centre: The ILS Centre for Arbitration and Mediation (ILSCA) –

The Centre was established on 3rd December 2016 by the Indian Law Society. The Centre was established with the sole purpose of providing facilities for settlement of disputes through different methods of Alternative Dispute Resolution. The Centre would act as an effective institution to realize the objectives of ADR.

ILSCA is in the process of making rules for holding Institutional Arbitration at ILSCA. Currently, besides the Mumbai Centre for International Arbitration, Mumbai, there is no such arbitration centre in Maharashtra which can cater to parties who can opt for institutional arbitration. It will be a joint effort between the Indian Law Society, and the domestic and international business and legal communities to promote institutional arbitration. The Centre aims to bring about faith in the process of institutional arbitrations by framing user-friendly rules of institutional arbitration.

ILS Institutional Arbitration will be a first-of-its-kind, attached to an educational institution which imparts legal education. Another important objective of ILSCA is to provide training in ADR methods and other allied subjects on Arbitration.

Legal Aid Mediation Camp in collaboration with Council of Mediation and Arbitration (CMA)

Conducted on: 24th November, 2018

ILSCA initiated the concept of holding a free Mediation Camp for the benefit of parties in dispute and to provide such parties in conflict a space for resolving their conflicts on their own without any external agency. The purpose of this camp was to promote Mediation as one of the best methods to resolve personal disputes. This camp targeted the disputant parties, particularly who were involved in domestic disputes, that were registered under the ILS Law College's Legal Aid Centre.

ILSCA and ILS Legal Aid Centre in association with Council of Mediation and Arbitration (CMA) organized this one-day Free Mediation Camp to encourage the disputants to adopt the process of Mediation for resolving the disputes. Basic purpose of holding a camp on Mediation for resolving disputes was primarily to educate parties who were in dispute and convince them that they could consider Mediation as the first and the best option to resolve their disputes with other persons.

The parties who took part in this Mediation Camp had originally lodged their grievance with the ILS Law College's Legal Aid Centre and after initial persuasion were ready and willing to attend the Mediation camp. This Pro Bono Mediation camp was the first ever initiative by ILSCA. There were six such parties (husband and wife) who were in a undecided situation about their relationship. At the end of the Mediation camp one could witness that most of the parties went with a smiling and satisfied face.

The Mediation was conducted by the following expert mediators from the Council of Mediation and Arbitration (CMA). CMA is based in Navi Mumbai and consists of panel of trained Mediators and Arbitrators expert in different subject areas.

Mr. Parvez Khan	Ms. Disha Mulgaonkar
Ms. Gandha Sahu	Mr. Ashish Sonawane
Ms. Krishna Thacker	Mr. Prasad Barje
Ms. Leena Patil	Mr. Azim Shaikh
Ms. Avanti Moghe	Mr. Rajesh Jage

The camp witnessed the participation of six disputing parties. Most of the disputes were matrimonial in nature. Out of the six cases, four were successfully resolved with the parties managing to reach an agreeable settlement through the help of the Mediators. Two cases are pending and will be called again for another session.

This Mediation camp helped the parties avoid litigation and resolve disputes amicably. Court litigation is a costly and a lengthy process. The initiative took all efforts to help the parties reach a peaceful and acceptable settlement.

ILSCA proposes to hold many such camps in the near future. It is basically a people oriented initiative. This Centre can cater to all types of disputes: matrimonial, landlord-tenant, money recovery issues, property disputes etc.

CENTRE FOR MENTAL HEALTH LAW & POLICY

CMHLP's work is spread across four kinds of verticals to promote mental health –

1. Suicide Prevention
2. Community Based Mental Health
3. Peer Support
4. Rights-Based Interventions

1. Suicide Prevention

CMHLP is implementing a research project called as SPIRIT – Suicide Prevention & Implementation Research Initiative. The project is being implemented in 116 villages of Mehsana district in Gujarat. It funded by the National Institute of Mental Health, Government of United States. Currently the project is in the second year of its five-year term (2017 to 2022). Project Funding for the Current Year is Rs. 2.8 crore (approx.)

SPIRIT project aims to reduce suicides by three ways - (i) by giving farmers community storage boxes that look like bank lockers to store pesticides; (ii) by training school going adolescents between 14 to 16 years to develop life skills to understand their emotional distress and coping with stress; (iii) by training community health workers to identify, assess, provide support, refer and follow-up persons who are at risk of self-harm/suicide. SPIRIT will also build capacities of regional researchers and policy makers in South Asia to conduct implementation research on mental health issues and use evidence for policy making.

2. Community-Based Mental Health

CMHLP is running a community led program called Atmiyata. It aims to develop informal care providers to identify, support and refer persons with common and severe mental disorders.

Currently Atmiyata program is implemented in all 618 villages in Mehsana District, Gujarat, and is likely to get completed by March 2019. Project Funding for the year 1 is Rs. 74,60,813 (approx.), and is being jointly funded by Grand Challenges Canada and Mariwala Health Initiative.

Centre has recently signed a MOU with Mahila Arthik Vikas Mahamadal, Maharashtra Atmiyata [MAVIM] to implement Atmiyata project in Maharashtra. The project will be implemented in 2 talukas of Ahmednagar District. Centre will be the technical partner and MAVIM will be an implementing partner. The activities planned under this intervention are planned for a year starting April 2019. Project Funding for Year 1 is Rs. 23,07,900 (approx.).

3. Peer support

For promoting peer support among people of different age groups, Centre is currently implementing two specific projects

(a) Partnership with Teach for India, Pune

The partnership aims at building peer counsellor network in schools by identifying, training, mentoring, and supporting youth volunteers in the age group of 14-16 years. These trained volunteers will provide support to their peers facing mental health distress in their schools. The initiative will focus on 'distress' and not an 'illness' paradigm as the latter reinforces stigma in persons facing distress.

(b) UPSIDES - Using Peer Support in Developing Empowering Mental Health Services

UPSIDES is an international community of research and practice for peer support, including peer support workers, mental health researchers, and other relevant stakeholders in eight study sites across six countries in Europe, Africa and Asia.

During the first two years of UPSIDES, a series of systematic reviews and qualitative studies will explore local stakeholders' perceptions and the current state of peer support at each site. Findings will be used to develop a culturally appropriate peer support intervention to be piloted across all study sites. In India, the Centre will implement the project in Gujarat. Project funding for Year 1 is Rs. 13,73,600 (approx.)

4. Rights based interventions

Centre also focusses on developing interventions for implementing right-based approaches in the provision of mental health services. Specifically, the Centre is focussed on capacity building of different stakeholders for implementation of the Mental Healthcare Act, 2017 [MHCA] and the National Mental Health Policy, 2014.

The Centre is currently in the process of implementing a capacity building program for implementation of the MHCA by developing training manuals and a mobile APP on the MHCA with the support of a grant given by Mariwala Health Foundation. Over the course of the next two years, the Centre will expand the capacity building initiative for implementation of the MHCA to the States of Maharashtra and Chhattisgarh and has further applied for a grant with the Commonwealth Foundation.

MoU with Government of Maharashtra & Chhattisgarh

The Centre has signed a MOU with the Public Health Department of Maharashtra and proposes to sign a Memorandum of Understanding with Chhattisgarh for the following activities: (i) strengthening legal aid cells in regional mental health hospitals (only Maharashtra) (ii) training of health professionals under the District Mental Health Program (only Maharashtra) (iii) training of SMHA members, MHRB members, district judges and police officers (iv) development of training manuals (v) suicide prevention activities (only Chhattisgarh). Project Funding for Year 1 is Rs. 24,87,345 (approx.)

Other Activities:

(a) Consulting for QualityRights

Taxation is perceived as a vast and highly complex subject and students are reluctant in taking up taxation as their areas of practice is pertinent. Consequentially, the practice of taxation is restricted to a small number of advocates even though taxation laws are one of the most extensively applicable laws in India. In order for the country to witness good taxation legal practitioners in future, it is imperative that the students are allowed a platform to understand and learn these vast and complex laws.

Through this Conference, the ILS Law College availed the opportunity of discussing and deliberating on Taxation Laws with invaluable inputs from the doyens in the field of taxation. It helped the students to appreciate the niceties of the subject and in our most humble belief, would also kindle interest in the minds of students of our college to take up further study or research or practice in taxation laws.

Currently there is an unprecedented transformation in the legal profession and legal education. The demand for legal professionals has evolved in almost all spheres of life- from social, economic, political to the contemporary changes in Technological advancements. The mainstream, traditional Legal Education Institutions produce legal professionals for most of the legal fields in India. It is thus, important to strengthen them and reform the curriculum to cater to these fields in a better manner.

The last work on Curriculum Development of Law was by the Bar Council of India in 2010-11.

Report of the Curriculum Development Committee of the Bar Council India on Law Curriculum (15th February 2010 Report) reflects an attempt to involve the stakeholder perspective. The report recommends innovative program structures. However, these innovations and requirements of legal field call for promising opportunities as well as challenges. One of such challenges is evolving the law curriculum with the inputs from all the stakeholders in legal fraternity and legal education right from academicians, Legal Education institutions, litigating lawyers, senior law firm partners, administrators to judges.

The workshop aimed at bringing together academic scholars, senior professionals from legal field, policy makers, regulatory authorities and members of the Bar and the Bench to deliberate, discuss and guide on formulation of law curriculum to meet the needs of legal profession and ends of justice. The workshop witnessed an array of backgrounds and perspectives of its contributors in determining the parameters of curriculum development, teaching learning methodologies and evaluation pattern.

Date: 09/01/2019

Cyber law is nothing but the law that governs the cyberspace which is a computer generated world or the Internet. The users of cyberspace are increasing manifold, which in turn leads to the necessity of the law governing these users. Thus cyber law is the law governing the users of computer and Internet. With the growth of Internet and its users Indian parliament passed its first cyber law i.e. the Information Technology Act, 2000. The objective of the Act is to validate the computer based transactions. The Act has introduced and legalized the authentication of electronic record by digital signature. Digital signature takes the concept of a paper based signing and turns it into a fingerprint. The Act has provided for establishment of a Cyber Appellant Tribunal where appeal against the orders of the Adjudicating authorities is preferred.

Further, the Act provides for the Offences and the punishments for committing the same, some of them are Hacking, Cyber Terrorism, Child pornography. The passing of Information Technology Act, 2000 compelled a number of amendments in other legislations like the Indian Penal Code, Evidence Act and Banker's Book Evidence Act. The Information Technology Act, 2000 has a lot of drawbacks, the applicability of the act has not been clearly defined and it is not being updated and implemented with the growth of the aspects in the cyber space. Cyber Law is a major necessity in the country with the growth and advancement of technology. Although the Information Technology Act brought a radical change in the country it is not much competent and leaves several aspects untouched.
