YEARBOOK 2017-18

ILS Law College, Pune.

PRINCIPAL'S PAGE

Dear friends,

I am proud to present to you our annual report Abhivryakti Year Book for the year 2017-18. The report tells you about the hard work the faculty and students have put in, the new heights ILS has reached and the creative ideas we tried to develop. This report will make an interesting reading for all those who want to know more about ILS.

The year was eventful and students made us proud by their excellent performance in various co-curricular and extra-curricular activities. A team of Mohith Gauri, Yalini Ravi, Alefiyah Schipchandler and Sharanya Shivaraman was the winner of William C. Vis (East) International Commercial Arbitration Moot Court Competition held at Hong Kong in March 2018. Ms. Shruti Shrikhande qualified to be the national topper among girls in combined Defence Services examination conducted by the UPSC. I congratulate all those who brought laurels to the institution. We are also very proud to inform you that the State of Maharashtra has chosen ILS as knowledge partner in the field of law to compile and edit the Marathi encyclopedia.

I take this opportunity to thank my faculty, non-teaching staff and students for their whole hearted supported in all activities. I am sure that the same support will be extended in the years to come. I wish all our students good luck for their future.

Thank you

Vaijayanti Joshi
Principal

EDITORIAL

Imparting education not only enlightens the receiver, but also broadens the giver - the teachers, the parents, the friends. - Amartya Sen

Academic year 2017-18 was yet another milestone in enlightening the students and broadening the horizons of the teachers. ILS Law College has always strived to achieve its mission and objective with dedication and perseverance.

The editorial team takes pleasure in presenting an account of the range of activities that transacted throughout the academic year in different structure. A glance through the pages would convey that ILS Law College has been consistent in conducting the academic as well as non-academic activities, which have been initiated either since its inception or at a later stage of its development.

Academically the college has kept up its performance in the University examinations by topping in the merit list. The performance of students in the advocacy skills activities has been outstanding. ILS Law College teams won various national moot court competitions, they represented in various trial advocacy, client counseling and negotiation competitions. ILS Law College has also kept up the spirit by representing in the extracurricular and cultural activities.

This year's highlight is the historic achievement of winning the Eric Bergsten Award for prevailing team in Oral in the 15th Vis East Moot 2017 - 2018. The team also got the Honorable mention for the Best Memorandum of Respondents. Ms Alefiyah Schipchandlar received Honorable mention for Best Speaker.

The year saw a vibrant alumni meet, where the alumni of ILS Law College, who have been designated Senior Advocates were felicitated. Apart from this, the College conducted conferences and seminars on various contemporary legal issues. ILS believes in sharing and spreading its expertise and legal education beyond its students, with this aim we offered various diploma and certificate programs for students and professionals as a value addition to their existing knowledge of law. The teachers and students were also involved in various research and consultancy activities. To discharge the moral and statutory obligation of contributing to justice education, various legal programs in house and outbound were conducted in this year.

The reports of the individual Cells, Committees and teachers reflect the dedication of the teachers and students in conducting various competitions, activities and events to foster the cause of teaching and learning.

The editorial team expresses its gratitude to Principal Vaijayanti Joshi for guiding and supervising us through the tedious process of publishing this annual report. We would also take this opportunity to thank Shree J printers for a laborious task of designing and printing. We appreciate the efforts of the photographers Mr. Date and Mr. Shyam Jaiswal for adding colours to the bare text of reports.

Hope while flipping through Abhivyakti yearbook 2017-18, the readers get a glimpse of this year's milestones. Wish you all a Happy Reading !!!

Participatory Ecosystem Management (SOPPECOM). The core team to be working on this project included Dr. Jaya Sagade and Ms. Prasanna Invally from WSC, ILS Law College; Ms. Seema Kulkarni and Ms. Sneha Bhat from SOPPECOM; and Ms. Chaaya Datar, Ms. Ritu Diwan as special invitees.

Activities: Following the first phase of the project that focussed on reviewing the status of women and land rights in Maharashtra through secondary data and experiences from the field, the agenda for the second phase was decided, and following activities conducted in the year 2016-17

A. State-level consultation 5th, 6th April 2016 in Pune – This was the culmination of phase I in which about 40 grassroots activists and legal experts participated discussed issues faced in the different regions across Maharashtra, including legal issues; experiments that have been successful; and articulated suggestions for addressing these issues. The experiences of Working Group for Women and Land Ownership (WGWLO) – a network of civil society organizations in Gujarat and the agenda of the national level network – Mahila Kisan Adhikar Manch (MAKAAM), was also shared. The possibility for setting up a state level network was considered, and areas of research action and training identified, and an agenda for taking the effort forward was drawn out. The following needs were identified and suggestions for taking the process forward were drawn out

- i. Need to file PILs, Class actions, RTIs, for which the participant organizations needed legal advice and support
- ii. Following key areas were identified for legal actions:
 - a. Scrapping of land fragmentation laws that are applicable in Maharashtra and Gujarat as they deter transfer of lands in the name of women.
 - b. Muslim personal law talks of only 1/3rd share for women. This needs to be amended and all groups who support gender justice should come together to demand such an amendment.
 - c. MIDC 1961 act should be amended to include compensation given for women from the land holding families whose land has been acquired
 - d. Transfer of rights to women from families eligible for transfer under the Kul kayda Act. Need for a class action to follow up on the pending tenancy cases in Sindhudurg and Ratnagiri
 - e. Need for ensuring that state lands are transferred in joint names of husbands and wives. RTI and a PIL can be filed
 - f. For Gairan land regularization there is a need for an overarching law and not only a GR

- g. Legal framework to protect the rights of the share croppers- can we draft something for that. The tenancy laws are stringent and hence farmers are not willing to have any record of share cropping.
- h. If 90% of lands are being cultivated by women then we should see how the law can be amended to transfer ownership to women. Need for both dialogue and struggle.
- i. Need for supporting women in implementation of law. Can we think of an amendment? Curtail release deed processes etc
- iii. Legwork for the legal actions to be undertaken, were drawn out as follows:
 - a. Need for documentation of share croppers in the state. There is a concept note on land lease prepared by the Niti Ayog. This needs to be studied and commented upon.
 - b. Need to organize training and legal awareness workshops. Despite the laws and the GR state land is often given in the name of men. If concerned organisations who are aware of such cases can compile them. Law College and SOPPECOM can take on the responsibility of filing a PIL
 - c. Share all government GRs with the entire group.

B. Commencement of Phase II - December 2016 to January 2018

Phase II of duration 13 months has been designed on the basis of the needs that emerged and recommendations of civil society organizations working on women and land rights. It commenced from December 2016 and is in its preparatory stage. Some of the activities planned are as follows:

- i. A three day state Level workshop on perspective building and legal awareness on women and land rights in order to create awareness amongst the lead karyakartas and the organizational leadership to take the issue forward
- ii. Three day legal awareness of staff of HMF, Manavlok and MASUM and a few other interested organisations from Marathwada who had shown interest in the regional meetings of phase I
- iii. Four one day workshops on Perspective building and legal training of local government officials in the Marathwada region of Maharashtra.
- iv. Conduct a participatory research in order to create a data base on the extent of claims made by women for private and public property, to understand the extent of release deeds in the field area specifically in the case of Hindu and Muslim personal laws, and create the training material for the staff of the participating NGOs

1.2 Developing User Manuals for various cadres of personnel appointed under the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005. (PWDVA)

Project duration: November 2016 to July 2018 : The need for user manuals arose out of the various training sessions on the Act that the Women's Studies Centre had conducted in the past with judicial officers, protection officers, police, lawyers, medical professionals and counsellors. Manuals for each of these stakeholders are in the making. In order to emphasize on the gender sensitive perspective of the PWDVA, a separate section on 'Gender and Domestic Violence' would be part of each of these manuals. This project is supported by SwissAid India.

WSC has collaborated with NGOs and individuals that have expertise in the field to author the manuals viz: CEHAT (medical professionals), TISS (Police) and Sahyog (lawyers), and Mr. Milind Chavan (gender expert). WSC would be authoring the manuals for judges, protection officers and counsellors. The core faculty for the project are Dr. Jaya Sagade and Ms. Prasanna Invally.

The following activities were conducted during the year 2017-18 under this project:

1.2.1 Meetings with authors of the Manuals:

a. One day centralized meeting with the authors of the Manuals – 17th Jan 2017:

The purpose of the consultation was to discuss the broad style, methodology and content. A team of six authors participated. It was emphasized that manuals should aim at helping a stakeholder in using one's authority, implementing one's duty and using PWDVA provisions effectively and gender-sensitively. In other words it ought to be application based.

The team discussed about how the manuals would be different from the existing ones, the nature of the content and the style, the language style to be used in the manual, the process to be followed during manual preparation the financial resources available for it, and the time-line of various activities.

The group also brainstormed on what the manual on Gender and DV, which would be a common part across all manuals should contain.

The report of the meeting was shared with all authors.

b. One-on-one meetings with authors:

The core faculty for the project has responded to authors' queries, assisted in building an outline in case of Gender and DV manual, and provided inputs on the manual content to bring the focus on PWDVA. The meetings and communication on manual drafts with the respective authors was through email, phone and meetings in person

1.2.2 Collective consultation of stakeholders across Maharashtra – 8th April 2017:

Representatives of the various stakeholders under the PWDVA were invited. The participants – in all 32 individuals - included protection officers (and concerned DWCD officers), police officers, medical officers, lawyers, NGO representatives working on issues of gender and DV, and authors of the various manuals. The consultation was held in the conference hall of ILS Law College.

The purpose of the consultation was to explore the needs, identify knowledge gaps, explore issues in coordinated effort of stakeholders, and their difficulties that need to be addressed in the manuals. The author of each manual made a presentation of the broad content, followed by a discussion. They sought information and enquired about the content and style that need to be included.

Presentations by authors and discussions that followed - in brief:

Ms. Anuradha Kapoor made the first presentation on the theme Gender and DV. The group suggested the emphasis should be laid more on gender, patriarchy, gender-based violence and DV, rather than on the emergence of PWDVA. Use of examples, illustrations, quizzes – such as “How gendered are you?” should be included, and the content made interesting.

Dr. Jaya Sagade then made a presentation on issues that she would address in the Manual for judges. The group discussed that emphasis was to be laid on proactive role that judges can play at every stage of the proceedings, keeping in mind the spirit of the Act that calls for protection from all forms of violence, quick reliefs and use of interim orders, calling for services of multiple providers and protection officers and experts, etc. Illustrations of best practices and case law could add flavour to the manual.

Ms. Rama Sarode, (Advocate) presented on the Manual for Lawyers. Care that lawyers should take to ensure that the law is not diluted detailing out the violent incidents and its consequences in the application, advocacy issues such as inefficiency of free legal aid from the LSA and, certain tips in using legal provisions in the best interests of the DV survivor were discussed.

Ms. Medha Deo, TISS, Mumbai presented on the manual for police officers. The group discussed about how the DIR copied be maintained / used and make it a police record, their role in implementation of orders, in supporting the PO, the GRs that have been passed in the context of the role of police under PWDVA, etc.

Ms. Prasanna Invally presented the outline of the Manual for Protection Officers and raised certain questions related to practice and difficulties faced by them. She sought information on how POs addressed these difficulties and enquired about how provisions such as safety plan were used. It emerged that use of FAQs in the manual at every stage would make it practical.

Ms. Padma Deostahli, CEHAT, Mumbai, presented on the role of medical officers in dealing sensitively with a DV survivor, the protocols that they can follow, and their duties and functions under PWDVA about which they have generally no information.

Ms. Prasanna Invally, presented on the role of counsellors as ‘Service Providers’ under PWDVA. Counsellors, who are part of Service Providers, have a limited role, and it is advisable not to get into too many technical details on counselling, the participants suggested. Also it was suggested, that an overall role of service providers be covered in the manual. Participants also suggested that material for DV survivors is also direly required, and the project holders may consider preparing such material.

The consultation ended on a note that the draft manuals so prepared would be shared with respective stakeholders for the purpose of testing, and a request to cooperate with the authors.

CONFERENCES/ SEMINARS

COLLOQUIUM 3.0 ON CONTEMPORARY ISSUES IN CORPORATE AND COMPETITION LAW

Faculty Coordinator: Ms. Smita Sabne & Ms Swatee Yogeshh

ILS Law College, Pune hosted this year's Colloquium on 'Contemporary Issues in Corporate and Competition Law' on 24th and 25th February, 2018 at the newly-built Conference Hall. This was the first time the college's Corporate and Competition Law Cells collaborated to jointly host an event at such a big scale. Speakers for the event were stalwarts from the legal fraternity. They included legal experts, senior advocates, members of specialized tribunals, and partners and associates of some of India's biggest law firms.

First day of the Colloquium dealt with contemporary issues affecting the field of corporate law. It was divided into three sessions, which included talk by speakers, a panel discussion and key-note addresses.

Day1 : Session I: _Decoding the SEBI Regulations on Real Estate Investment Trusts

Speaker: Mr. Arun Jerome, Senior Associate, Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas

This session commenced with Shreya Choudhary [III B.A. LL.B.] introducing the speaker and giving a basic idea about the topic. Mr. Jerome used a presentation to explain the niceties of real estate investment trusts (REITs) and the law applicable to them in India. He began by pointing out key characteristics of REITs and features that set them apart from other financial entities and discussed it in the light of SEBI (Real Estate Investment Trust) Regulations, 2014, he eventually went on to make a case for REITs in India.

The session concluded with a question- answer session.

Session II: Restrictions on the Layering of Subsidiaries

Speakers: Mr. Ashish Ahuja, Partner, Wadia Ghandy & Co.

Mr. Vinayak Khanwalkar, Partner, Kanj & Associates

Ms. Purti Minawala, Associate, Crawford Bailey & Co.

Ms. Minawala, acting as the moderator, opened up the debate by explaining how newly-introduced measures of the government had given rise to discussions on the issue of layering of subsidiaries. She pointed out that Section 2(87) authorizes the government to cap the number of subsidiaries companies can have, which has been done by the notification of the Companies (Restrictions on Number of Layers) Rules, 2017 on 20th September last year. Mr. Khanwalkar took over the podium thereafter to argue in favor of such restrictions. Using anecdotes and his practical experience as a Company

Secretary, he highlighted several real-life examples of corporate mis-governance to support the government in preventing companies from creating several subsidiaries.

Taking up the contrary view in this debate was Mr. Ahuja, whose arguments basically explained why restrictions imposed on layering of subsidiaries to curb the menace of money laundering was a classic example of problem-solution mismatch. Despite terming black money, FEMA violations and money laundering as problems that need to be addressed, Mr. Ahuja explained that outright restrictions on companies from creating subsidiaries will not resolve anything.

Session III: Smart Contracts & Crypto-Currencies: The Legal Conundrum posed by Blockchain Technology

Speaker: Mr. Arvind Ravindranath, Associate, Nishith Desai Associates

Mr. Ravindranath began by giving a brief introduction on what block chain technology really is. He used a presentation to get down to the root of crypto currencies and smart contracts by pointing out their practical applications. He made out a strong case by advocating in support of block chain technology and smart contracts, but ruled out the existence of crypto currencies in the longer run.

Day 2 : Session I: Keynote Address

Mr. Ramji Srinivasan, Senior Advocate, Supreme Court of India

The second day of the Colloquium began with a keynote address by senior advocate Ramji Srinivasan. Mr. Srinivasan spoke on the 'The Framework of Competition Law in India'. He began by explaining the need for competition law. He delved into the history of the Act by explaining the fallacies of the Monopolies and Restrictive Trade Practices Act and the reasons for Parliament enforcing the Competition Act 2002. He went on to explain the meaning and interpretation of the Section 3 and Section 4 prohibitions and how restraints were classified under the Act. Mr. Srinivasan was aided by his fellow resource persons while making the presentation.

Session II - Collective Dominance and Uncertainty Surrounding Single Economic Entity Doctrine

Panelists: Naval Chopra, Dhruv Rajain, Saumya Hariharan

The second session dealt with analyzing the scope of collective dominance regime within the present framework of the Competition Act. The session was opened by panelist Naval Chopra who presented his views on the current regime of competition law in India.

Mr. Ratneshwar Prasad presented his views on the topic where he maintained that the concept of collective dominance is very much present in the current scheme of the Act. In the opinion of Mr. Prasad, placing reliance on his dissenting order in Neeraj Malhotra v. Deutsche Post Bank Home Finance (2010), such a concept can be found under Sec.3 of the Act. The classes of parties to an agreement dealt with by section 3(3) are; enterprises, associations of enterprises; persons or associations of persons and they could act in any combination.

The audience was then addressed by panelist Ms. Hariharan. She spoke about the notification of March 04, 2016, revising the merger control regime in India and its impact on the industry. She also presented her views on the concept of "single economic entity" and the ambiguity prevailing around it.

Lastly, Mr. Rajain addressed the participants by sharing his opinion on "Single Economic Entity" concept. He drew the attention of the participants to numerous cases such as Exclusive Motors Pvt. Ltd. v. Automobili Lamborghini, Shamsher Kataria v. Honda, et al., to explain the doctrine.

The session was then followed by a short Q&A from the participants and was concluded.

Session III: Resolution of Abuse of Dominance Cases by Settlement

This session was opened by the moderator, Mr. Bhatia who commenced by taking about his views on the current competition law regime in India. The participants of the colloquium were then addressed by Mr. Rajain, who presented statistics to show that indeed abuse of dominance cases should be resolved by settlement

Mr. Prasad then opined on the powers of CCI to pass an order in the nature of a consent decree pursuant to the residuary clause under § 27(g). However, he suggested that for resolution of abuse of dominance cases by settlement to work properly, CCI ought to introduce proper regulations to govern the procedure in which such settlement should take place. The rest of the panel agreed to this suggestion.

From the discussion among the panelists it appeared that all three panelists agreed that Indian Competition Law regime is extremely far from resolution of abuse of dominance cases by settlement.

The session was concluded by a Q&A session.

INDIAN LAW SOCIETY'S 96th FOUNDATION DAY(4th March 2018) Celebrated On 5th March 2018

"Success means having the courage, the determination, and the will to become the person you believe you were meant to be." – George Sheehan

The Indian Law Society celebrated its 96th Foundation day on 5th March 2018. Mr. Shrikant Kanetkar, Advocate, Member of the Indian Law Society graced the occasion as the chief guest. The members of Indian Law Society, Faculty, Administrative staff of the College and Institute of Advanced Studies joined the Celebrations.

Mr. Shrikant Kanetkar, Advocate, Principal Vaijayanti Joshi hoisted the flag and formally celebrated the 96th Foundation day of Indian Law Society.

Principal Vaijayanti Joshi in her address provided a glimpse of 96 years of history of Indian Law Society. The Chief Guest Mr. Shrikant Kanetkar (Advocate) through his address laconically brought to light the importance of legal education. Law, legal education and development have become interrelated concepts in modern developing societies, which are struggling to develop into social welfare states and are seeking to ameliorate the socio-economic condition of the people by peaceful means. Today, Law is viewed not merely as an instrument of social control, but also as an instrument of social change. Lawyers have been characterized as social engineers. As liberal education, legal education may serve the society by imparting to law students general and cultural education making them good law-abiding citizens. Such education will instill into the students the significance and relevance of democratic culture. As professional education, legal education equips law students for filling different roles in society, and discharging various law jobs, the range and scope of which is always expanding in the modern democratic society, e.g.—Policy makers, administrators, lawyers, law teachers, etc. Accordingly, it is realized in modern India that the legal education ought to have breadth.

On foundation day we felicitated The Meritorious Students for their curricular and extra-curricular activities at the hands of the Chief Guest. This year apart from felicitating the toppers for the academic year 2015-16, 2016-17 a prize was also given for special contribution in legal aid.

The foundation Day celebrations concluded with a hope to innervate new prospects of conquest.

ILS LITERARY CLUB

Coordinating Faculty: Mr. Ashish C. Pawar

Core Committee Members (B.A., LL.B. I): Neha Dhavalikar, Nirali Hamirwasia, Yamini Jain, Sanskruti Mahale, Sneha Kulkarni, Antara Bhide, Bhoomi Sandesra

ILS Literary Club is an initiative that looks forward to be a platform where students come together to share and discuss what they have read, especially the Literary works. The sessions of the club generally have a theme based on various forms of writing like Poetry, Novels, Plays, etc.

Reading Literature is an activity that is creative in itself as the reader has to interpret the texts at various levels. Every reader has an interpretation of its own. It is only when one gets to share the interpretation and gets to hear how the other readers have approached the texts, can one test, validate, and expand one's understanding through discussion and argument. And the same analytical and argumentative spirit forms the very basis of academics.

Keeping this in mind the ILS Literary Club arranges sessions where the students engage in the discussion of various works of Literature. Following Sessions have so far been conducted by the ILS Literary Club:

- Session I: Urdu Poetry by Iqbaal (Presented by Ayaan Khaan (B.A., LL. B. I))
- Session II: To Kill a Mockingbird: A Discussion
- Session III: Merchant of Venice: The Court Scene
